PRICES TRADE BOARD RESTRICTS TELEPHONES

Because war needs must come first and telephone facilities must prove equal to any demands having to do with the war, new telephone installations must be rigidly restricted.

That is the announcement made by Bell Telephone officials this week in conformity with the order of the wartime prices and trade board, dealing with telephone services.

"The main factors in the telephone situation," said Manager Harold McClelland of the Bell Company in Newmarket, "are that orders for telephone installations have been coming in since the first of the year at an even greater rate than last year, and 1941 was the record year in our history. Of the 63,000 net gain in telephones last year, 44,500 were for residence service, and the preponderance of orders for home telephones is continuing.

"Then there is acute and growing shortage of the materials required to make telephones and telephone equipment. Such things as copper, tin, zinc, steel and rubber are urgently needed for war supplies. Even when we employ a maximum of repaired and re-conditioned apparatus, the demand on the dwindling supply of vital materials is far too great. We must safeguard telephone equipment so that we may be always in a position to provide facilities for the war services, for the manufacturers of munitions and supplies and for other essential purposes. The service must be maintained at the highest level of efficiency.

"The wartime prices and trade board has directed us to do all such things as may be requisite to conserve any and all telephone plant and facilities.

"We shall need the cordial co-operation of the public in this. We are confident that when applicants reflect that the needs of the war and the vital services must be promptly met, they will gladly forgo all but the most urgent installations, for that will be another way of helping to win the war."

QUEEN'S PARK CHECKS UP ON ASSESSMENTS

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS OFFICIAL QUERIES INDUSTRIAL ASSESSMENTS

SAYS ACT IGNORED

The prevailing Newmarket practice of treating the fixed assessment of industries as also the full assessment was questioned in a letter from the department of municipal affairs before the town council on Monday evening.

The letter, addressed to N. L. Mathews, K.C., town clerk, treasurer and solicitor, and signed by M. I. Jones, supervisor, department of municipal affairs, was as follows: "It has been brought to my attention that the town of Newmarket has granted fixed assessments to local industries and upon reference to your clerk's return you report that the by-law with respect to the Davis Leather Co. fixes the assessment in the amount of $39,000 and that this by-law runs from 1934 to 1944. The by-law for the Office Specialty Manufacturing Co. Ltd. in the amount of $50,000 runs from 1937 to 1947.

"According to your return, it would seem that these fixed assessments are used as the basis of levying the taxes for all purposes and that these industries are not paying on their actual assessment for schools and direct relief.

"In this connection I would refer you to the provisions of clause (a) subsection 1 of section 405 which states that the fixed assessment shall not apply to or affect taxation for school purposes or local improvements.

"I would appreciate if you would advise whether my contention is right and if so your recommendations as to how this matter may be adjusted."

Mr. Mathews' reply, as follows, was read to the council: "I have your letter of the 1st instant herein. I believe that the statements contained in your letter are quite correct. Although you asked for my recommendations in the matter I do not believe that this is a matter over which I have any control, as it is part of the duties of the assessor to assess in accordance with the act. It so happens in Newmarket that the assessor assesses the actual value of these industries at the amount of the fixed assessment and as I have of course no control over the assessor I do not see what I can do about it.

"Trusting that you will see my position in the matter."

"That brings up a difficult question," commented Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales.

"It's a matter of policy," said Reeve F. A. Lundy.

"I think in future we should stick to the act," said Dr. Dales.

"We should probably have a meeting of the finance committee with the industries, and perhaps we can arrange something that will mean additional revenue to the town," said Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale.

"That's agreeable to me," said Mr. Lundy. "I'll arrange a meeting."

"Dixon's have no fixed assessment," Mr. Mathews informed the council. Someone else stated that the Dixon assessment had been carried on at the same figure after expiration of the fixed assessment, and it was agreed that Dixon's should be invited to any discussion of the subject between the town and the industries.

"Perhaps the industries will agree to a higher assessment for education and relief," said Mr. Vale. "That will save friction."

"Why should there be friction?" asked Dr. Dales. "The act provides that fixed assessments shall not apply for education and relief. Suppose a fixed assessment is for $25,000 and full assessment is $100,000. The fixed assessment applies for the general rate."

"Which is less than half of the whole," said Mr. Mathews.

"And $100,000 for education and relief," continued Dr. Dales.

"The finance committee will go into it," said Mr. Lundy.

Air Rifles Frowned On By Town Councillors

A warning is to be issued to youngsters with air-rifles, the town council decided on Monday evening. N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk and solicitor, told the council that Chief Constable James Sloss had reported that youngsters were shooting birds.

JAS. HAIGHT, SON OF QUAKER PIONEERS, DIES

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arnoldi Haight of Pine Orchard, James C. Haight, a well-known Waterloo barrister and brother of Charles H. Haight of Toronto, died at the Kitchener and Waterloo hospital last Wednesday at the age of 80. He was born at Pine Orchard on the family homestead.

Arnoldi and Rachel Haight were among the pioneers of the Pine Orchard district. They settled on the George Hunt farm when they moved from Westlake to Pine Orchard neighborhood. Rachel Webb Haight attended Hallowell boarding school, now known as Picton. Both Arnoldi and Rachel Haight were Quakers and were clerks of the Friends Meeting at Pine Orchard. They celebrated their diamond wedding in 1906.

Their children, of whom Charles is now the only one living, were Frank, Milton, Eliza, Gulia, of Newmarket, James, and Charles, of Toronto, formerly of Detroit.

James Haight, who was a barrister at Waterloo for 45 years, was a prominent community figure there. He was vice-president of the Equitable Life Insurance Company and had served as municipal clerk and treasurer of Waterloo for 11 years. He had been a gold medallist upon his graduation from law school. He served as a member of the board of stewards and as a trustee of the United church.

A prominent Liberal, Mr. Haight, it is believed, was financial agent for Prime Minister Mackenzie King when Mr. King was first elected to parliament as representative of North Waterloo in 1908. He was also associated with the Hydro movement at its inception. He was a consistent supporter and worker in a number of charitable organizations. In his younger days Mr. Haight was an enthusiastic curler.

The funeral service was held at his residence in Waterloo on Saturday. Burial was made at Newmarket cemetery.

Mr. Haight is survived by his brother, Charles H., of Toronto, a nephew, Frank Arnold of Capetown, South Africa, two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Katharine Haight of Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. Minnie Haight, Waterloo, and two nieces, Dr. Rachel Haight of Ottawa and Mrs. Charles Brewster, Portland, Oregon.

Suffers Severe Burns, Lucy Amelia Bache Dies

The death occurred at York county hospital on Friday of Lucy Amelia Bache, who suffered severe burns while painting near a stove in the kitchen of her home at Sharon two days previously.

It is not known whether the skirt of her dress caught on fire while she was leaning over the stove to paint the ceiling above it, or whether she had spilled some paint on the stove, and it had flared up, the flames catching her clothing.

Miss Bache had been in ill-health for quite a number of years, never being very strong, but always active about the home.

Born near Ravenshoe, on Jan. 30, 1870, Lucy Amelia was the daughter of Jane Hoover and Benjamin Bache. She lived all her life near Ravenshoe until two weeks ago, when with her sisters, she moved to Sharon. She attended the Free Methodist church and tried to live up to its teachings. Miss Bache lived a quiet home life. She was very fond of her home and was always active either in the home, or in the garden, in which she took a great interest.

Miss Bache, with her sisters, Miss Mary Bache and Miss Ina Bache, had been running the homestead near Ravenshoe for the past eight years, prior to moving to Sharon. They were the fourth generation on the homestead.

Always willing to lend a helping hand whenever possible she will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

Surviving besides her sisters are one brother, Rev. G. H. Bache of Frankford, two nieces and one nephew.

The funeral service was held in the Free Methodist church, Newmarket, on Sunday, Rev. A. B. Moffat conducted the service. Interment was made in Queensville cemetery.

The pallbearers were Wm. Draper, C. Draper, B. MacMillan, W. McKinnon, H. Sedore and A. Huntley.

Queen's Yorks May Receive Marching Orders In Few Days

Recruiting Centre In Newmarket Arouses Interest In Famous County Regiment Now Called

The Queen's York Rangers recruiting program really got under way when the local unit opened a recruiting depot at 64 Main St. on Saturday morning. Major D. O. Mungovan is in charge.

"Results have been highly satisfactory," stated Lieut. R. B. Canham. "Arrangements have been made to transport recruits to 61 Albert St., Toronto, for medical examination and from there they are taken to Fort York Armories for documentation and equipping. From then on they are gentlemen in battle dress and prepared to do their duty for king and country."

North York men are brought back to Aurora, where they report each morning for training at York Armories and are granted subsistence allowance until the regiment receives orders to concentrate, which is understood will only be a matter of days.

Recruiting centres are being opened at Aurora, Weston, New Toronto and other central points throughout the county and it is expected that the Newmarket depot will remain open for several days.

Bravery Of 35 Years Ago Recalled By Lady's Death

Thirty-five years ago the heroine of a disastrous fire at Siloam in Uxbridge township, Esther Almeda Widdifield died in her 68th year yesterday at the home of her cousin, Mrs. John Trewhella, Millard Ave.

Born at Siloam, she was the daughter of Elizabeth Smith and Benjamin Kester Widdifield, who was of Quaker Pennsylvania stock.

It was in 1907 when both her parents were ill in bed that fire enveloped their home at Siloam. Miss Widdifield rushed into the blazing house and carried out first one parent and then the other. Both died, however, within a few weeks as a result of their experience, her mother on Feb. 18, 1907, and her father on March 26, 1907.

She came to Newmarket before the war and lived with her brother, A. E. Widdifield, who operated a livery business. After her brother's death in 1918, she made her home with her cousin, Mrs. Trewhella.

Two sisters had died before she came to Newmarket. Another brother, Henry Widdifield, died two years ago in Charlevoix, Mich.

Among surviving relatives are a sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry Widdifield, Charlevoix, Mich., and two nephews in Chicago, Kenneth and Albert Widdifield.

She was a first cousin of John W. Widdifield of Siloam, former member of the legislature.

Miss Widdifield was an active member of the Friends church as long as health permitted. In recent years she had been an invalid.

The funeral service will be held at the residence, 40 Millard Ave., on Friday at 2.30 p.m. Rev. John Roberts, Toronto, Friends minister, will conduct the service. Interment will be in Newmarket cemetery.

THERE'S A PLEBISCITE COMING

Since it has been disproved in recent times that "50,000 Frenchmen can't be wrong," perhaps we may renew our discussion of the coming plebiscite while at the same time conceding that probably an overwhelming majority of voters will follow the well-nigh unanimous advice of newspapers and public men to vote "Yes."

The principal point we contend for, and on this point we have the agreement of some of the "Yes" advocates (including Finance Minister Ilsley), is that a "Yes" vote is a vote for overseas conscription. Who can think that, if every province gave a "Yes" majority, there might still be no conscription (provided the war did not come to a sudden end)? If every province were to vote "Yes" Prime Minister King could not withstand the pressure that would be put upon him for conscription even if he himself should not become convinced of the military necessity for conscription.

We also question the obviousness of the widely circulated statement that the necessity for conscription is a question for parliament, not the people, to deal with. In 1917 it was a question for the people to deal with. It was a question for the people to deal with because the government had carried on a spirited recruiting campaign, because the Canadian corps in overseas trenches needed reinforcements, and because the new union government had declared its belief that conscription would produce the needed men. In the present war also it could be a question for the people to decide if the government had conducted a strong recruiting campaign and had not been able to attain an announced objective—("Daddy, what did you do in the Great War?") there haven't been even recruiting posters in this war—and the government had decided that conscription was desirable.

The position seems to be that the government is asking the people to declare themselves in favor of conscription (that's our interpretation of a "Yes" vote) before it is prepared to declare itself similarly. Admittedly, it is not asking for a forthright declaration in favor of conscription, and a large percentage of trusting people are going to vote "Yes" in the belief that the government will be free to, and will, weigh the pros and cons of overseas conscription and act accordingly. But a government—no matter what "inside" information it may possess—is not completely free to act wisely in such a matter. A government is subject to all sorts of pressure, and from various directions, and in acting it must take into account that pressure. It is not a dictator, but a democratic institution which must act in accordance with pressure or lose office. The citizen should hesitate before he assumes that the government will be free to reach a wiser decision than himself.

Some of those who discuss this question say, and quote the words of the plebiscite in proof, that the government is not asking people if they are in favor of conscription but if they release the government from its conscription pledges. Is the government asking for a forthright release? How can a "Yes" vote obtained in part through assurances that it will not be necessary to enact conscription for a year and maybe not then be regarded as a worthwhile release from a pledge? Is it fair to paraphrase the plebiscite question this way: "Will you give up your opposition to conscription provided the government decides to do likewise?" Those who never were opposed to conscription are expected to answer this "Have you stopped beating your wife?" type of question along with those who were opposed, and their "Yes's" will be stacked with the "Yes's" of the formerly opposed to release the government from its pledge. We can't see any useful purpose in the plebiscite unless it be understood to mean—as we think it does mean—"Are you in favor of overseas conscription?"

ONCE YOU START

While war-time experience in controlling business may show the way for some worthwhile post-war modifications in our economic system, this same experience may give us a greater appreciation of the merits of the present system and make us more hesitant about drastic interference with the old-time economic laws. For instance, when the government started off on its cost of living bonus and price ceiling program its economists were able to foresee that the government might have to subsidize importers and it may also have foreseen that it would have to subsidize manufacturers, but we doubt whether they foresaw that the public reaction to keeping prices down would be what is now called a buying spree. Perhaps they did, but they announced their plan as an alternative to the British plan of rationing. Now it would appear that they would have to use rationing to do the job that rising prices would have done normally—that is, to keep down the volume of buying.

Let us all be glad, however, for the steps—even though they be faltering—which Ottawa is taking on our behalf to prevent inflation, the robber, from running wild.

HOLE IN CEILING

Beginning this week, a leading United States magazine, on sale on Canadian newsstands, will be priced at (we do not say "will sell for") ten cents instead of five cents. The price ceiling applies to other American products on sale in Canada, and it applies to Canadian publications. Has an exception been made in favor of this notably independent-thinking (some say anti-British, but the publication in question has been critical both of Uncle Sam and John Bull) magazine?

GAP IN C.C.F. PROGRAM

What may prove to be an event of importance to the people of the province of Ontario is the election of E. B. Jolliffe, 33-year-old Toronto lawyer, as the leader of the Ontario C.C.F. Mr. Jolliffe is a Rhodes scholar, which means that he has brains, personality and brawn (or at least some athletic ability). The program which he and his party will present to the province includes "all measures necessary to establish parity prices that will ensure the farmer a full return for his labor and investment," public or co-operative ownership of processing, packing and cold storage plants, milk distribution as a public utility, encouragement to consumers' and producers' co-operatives, levelling education standards through provincial government financial contributions, compulsory recognition of trade unions, and enforcement of minimum wage and other labor protecting legislation.

This is a challenging program which is sure to affect the course of public affairs in the province. If the C.C.F. advocates its program with energy it will have the satisfaction of seeing many of its ideas put on the statute books, either by the older parties or by itself. There should be no hesitation in crediting those who take the hard path of establishing and building a new party with a zeal for reform and progress rather than a desire to rule. We pay the C.C.F. leaders the compliment of suggesting that they do not care who has the privilege of making their ideas effective but that progress and reform are all that matter.

Perhaps we may make a suggestion to the C.C.F. Assuming that their program is fully reported in the daily press, they have avoided dealing with what many Ontario people regard as an open sore on the Ontario body politic. This is the Hepburn government policy of promoting and encouraging the sale of alcoholic drinks. The C.C.F. may be disappointed to find rural Ontario slow to support its program of farm assistance, but there might be a different reaction to a courageous declaration of intention to pursue a new liquor policy, not a policy of restriction, but a policy of temperance education, a reversal of the present liquor sales promotion policy. It is a mistake to think the people of rural Ontario principally concerned about their own economic welfare. To gain their support there must be an appeal as well to their concern for the welfare of their fellow man (and the farming population is really not worried about the union problems of organized labor).

It is quite possible that the C.C.F. has avoided dealing with this contentious subject of liquor control because it wants the support of thousands who might be alarmed by anything which could be either fairly or unfairly called restriction of sales. Or it may fear to offend the beverage rooms waiters' union (if such there be) or to pit itself against the admittedly powerful distillers and brewers.

In our view, at any rate, a large number of Ontario voters are looking for an alternative party which will have the courage to deal fairly, moderately and intelligently with this question of liquor control.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

THE PLEBISCITE

(New Liskeard Speaker)

On April 27th Canada will go to the polls to cast a ballot on whether or not to release the government from its pledge not to invoke conscription for overseas service. That 1942 will be the most serious year in the history of the world is taken for granted by everyone. That Canada will require a much larger army for home defence as well as overseas service may be taken from the recent announcement making all single men and widowers without children subject to call for military service. The registration of all men now employed and the appointment of Elliott Little as manpower administrator is an indication that Canada is facing a shortage of manpower on the industrial front. 1942 will bring the war home to Canadians as never before and if the maximum effort is to be put forth it is necessary that the voters of Canada mark their ballot with an "X" opposite the "Yes" on April 27th.

AN OVERWHELMING "YES" VOTE NEEDED TO SAVE CANADA'S FACE

(Orillia Packet and Times)

The most immediate task before those who wish to see Canada playing her full part in the war is to see to it that there is an overwhelming "Yes" reply to the question submitted to the electorate by the dominion government in the plebiscite to be held on the 27th instant. The effect of a "No" majority, or even a close vote, might have consequences too tragic to contemplate.

The chief danger lies in a feeling that the plebiscite is futile, because the government is not pledged to act on it. But, on the other hand, if the answer is a thundering "Yes" they will be free to send the conscripted troops overseas if the circumstances should render this necessary. Whereas a "No" vote would tie their hands much more effectively than the pledge from which they are now asking to be released.

Besides a "No" vote would place Canada in a most humiliating position in the eyes of the rest of the empire and of the United States.

It should be understood that the issue in the plebiscite is not conscription. That is already in effect as far as service in Canada is concerned. The question at issue is whether the men now being trained, and who later may be called up, shall be available for service overseas if required. It will not necessarily add to the number to be conscripted.

Nor have the farmers to fear that they are going to be deprived of the help necessary to run their farms. Under the selective service now in force men needed on the farms are exempt from conscription. Nor can men leave the farms to go into the factories. The need for all-out production of agricultural products is recognized and protected.

There will not be the excitement of an election compaign to induce people to come out. Instead of opposing one another, the leaders of the two parties will be co-operating in getting out the vote. Between now and the 27th, everything possible should be done to impress on the public the duty and obligation to turn out to vote that day.

YOUNG CHIPS MEETS A DISGRUNTLED LADY

BY RUTH DINGMAN HEBB

"Isn't it heavenly?" remarked Young Chips, the Chickadee, to his cousin, Ted.

"It's a perfectly glorious day for Easter, if that's what you mean," Ted replied happily. "I can't remember a nicer one."

"I really referred to the spring sounds that we can hear right this minute, if we stop to listen," Young Chips explained. "Just listen a minute and you'll see what I mean."

The two Chickadees stopped their energetic hopping and put their little black-capped heads on one side to listen.

"There's a Songsparrow singing lustily," Ted said quickly. "It sounds nice to hear him."

"And there's a robin, not singing, but giving that loud, indignant, clucking call of his," added the other Chickadee. "Perhaps he's scolding some other Robin for encroaching on his territory."

"I hear a Meadowlark," announced Ted. "He must be over in the field there. And there's a Woodpecker tapping a tree somewhere down on the hillside."

"Yes, I hear him," Young Chips answered. "It doesn't sound loud enough for our friend, the Flicker, so it's probably a Downy or Hairy Woodpecker, doing some experimental spring drumming, to show the ladies that there is an eligible male in the vicinity."

"Oh, there goes a gorgeous Bluebird," exclaimed Ted delightedly. "He won't be long without a mate, I'll bet. The ladies will be squabbling over who's prize he is to be."

"Speaking of squabbling, what in the world is going on over in that white birch tree?" Young Chips said to the other bird. "There seem to be two birds quarrelling. They look like Woodpeckers."

"Let's go over and see what they are up to," suggested Ted, and the two flew swiftly across to a small tree near the birch tree, to watch."

"My feathers!" exclaimed Young Chips. "It's two female Downy Woodpeckers scrapping. They are pecking and diving at each other at a great rate, aren't they. Of course, one doesn't need to ask what they are quarreling about at this time of year. It must be over a husband, or intended husband."

"Oh ho," said Ted chuckling. "One seems to have won out and flown away victoriously. Let's ask the one that's left what was the matter, just for fun."

"What in the world were you scrapping with the other Woodpecker lady for, this lovely peaceful afternoon?" inquired Young Chips innocently of the Woodpecker.

"Don't ask questions about something that's none of your business," snapped the other bird disagreeably, smoothing at her slightly dishevelled feathers. "It was a disagreement over which of us was being noticed by a certain gentleman, if you must know. But I certainly don't feel a bit badly," she assured them hastily. "I didn't think he was so wonderful, anyway. And there are lots of other birds in the air. I won't have any trouble finding someone else, you may be sure."

"Ha, ha, that's what she says," laughed Young Chips, as he and Ted flew away again. "I'll bet she is as mad as a hatter. She's just too proud to admit it."

"This is an interesting season for the birds, all right," Ted commented. "I'm beginning to feel a bit romantic myself. Do you think my black cap is as shiny and smart-looking this year as ever?"

"Of course it is, old fellow," Young Chips told his friend. "I'm sure any lady Chickadee would be only too proud to be noticed by you."

"I'm glad you think I look young and peppy," said Ted, quite relieved. "I'm not as much of a boy as I used to be, you know. Well, I guess I'll go over to the other side of the town and look around. There might be someone attractive over there."

"Good luck with your courting," called Young Chips. "I'll be over later to see how you're getting on."

The Common Round

INVESTMENTS

By Isabel Inglis Colville

In these days when the leaders of nations talk of billions as if they were pennies; when millions are invested in every sort of war work and when the little bit of money we, the people, have goes, after we have done our patriotic duty, to meet the increased cost of living, I thought it would be fun, and a sort of brain rest, to talk about other kinds of investments.

No doubt some people, mathematically inclined, love to stretch their brain capacity as they follow appropriations and markets—all hail to them, say I, but I move in a lowlier sphere and the little pleasant, commonplace things help to keep me sane in a war-mad world.

Well, I couldn't form a company to do war work, but I could invest in a sort of menagerie which is a source of pleasure — yes and delight — to the feathered and furry folk and me.

Other years I contented myself with putting out some crumbs under the big spruce near the window and a bit of suet for the suet-lovers. This year I have spread food far beyond the tree — big pieces — crumbs, bones, and studded the tree with suet.

Did this investment pay? I'll say it did. Each winter morning, just as daylight came, I got ready a dish of food and went to the tree. There I called the chickadee call—that, for a very good reason—it's the only bird call I can imitate.

In a few minutes back would come the answer and in a minute or two my particular chickadee would come almost to my feet, and down the tree backward would come my woodpecker, the scarlet band on the back of his head shining like a ruby.

As I left I'd hear the flutter of wings, and there would be more chickadees and nuthatches, sparrows and bluejays, coming to have breakfast.

They displayed no fear, even when a few starlings and a crow or two joined them lately—I suppose because there was food for all.

Then there'd be a flurry of wings and an angry chirping as my three squirrels raced down to sample the feast. But it wasn't really the feast that attracted them—not altogether—it was the water, for I tried to keep a dish free of ice part of the time.

Those squirrels would just drink and drink as if they could never get enough and it made me feel guilty to think that last summer I gave the birds a high dish which the squirrels could not reach—they'll have their own this summer!

And now, the squirrels and birds are like the lion and the lamb—they eat together and it's a pretty sight.

Then, one evening, just as twilight fell and the birds had all gone I looked out and looking right at me was a huge black cat, eyes like emeralds, gleaming in the way cat's eyes do. It gave me look for look, but apparently it decided I was harmless and again tackled the bone it was sampling.

Now, nearly every evening, it comes to see if there is a juicy bone or a bit of cake—these are all it cares for, and Speck sits complacently near, till its repast is finished, after which they walk away in the dignified manner known to petted cats, and, no doubt, talk over affairs in Catania, ere they part with mutual expressions of esteem.

Then there are two other handsome cats which come at noon and look over the food; if it appeals, they eat a little in a lady-like way, then, with an amber-eyed look at me, they seek the barn, where Speck reigns supreme, and indulge in gossip or argument as their mood inclines — sometimes the sounds that issue therefrom bear a decided resemblance to swearing. Sometimes the three will sit in a sunny window, lost in thought—or day dreams.

Of one thing I grow more sure every day—the intelligence of my friends in fur and feathers. One day, lately, there was just one piece of suet left on the tree. The woodpecker came along and his pecking loosened it and sent it to the ground.

Following it down, he ate a while, but with no enjoyment. Up he went and looked the tree over—no more suet. Back down he came, grabbed the suet, climbed part way up the tree, found a good crevice in the bark, stuck the suet in, and finished his meal!

So now, my birds and squirrels and cats and I—there's a little black dog addicted to bones who's an honorary member—get fun and benefit and knowledge from the investment of an extra loaf or two and some suet. Try it—it pays.

In these days the cost-of-living index at March 2 was 115.9, as compared with 115.7 a month previous and 100.8 at the outbreak of war.

Helping To Keep Prices Reasonable

High taxes help to guard the country against unreasonable rises in the cost of living: They divert money from unnecessary spending for peace-time goods to Government spending for essential war-time material.

Saving money, practised by thousands of thrifty depositors has a similar effect: It helps to keep prices from soaring by decreasing the demand for non-essential, peace-time commodities.

Thus, when you save money in a savings account, you benefit yourself and the country. You will need to save, not only for family and personal emergencies, but to pay taxes and to buy war securities. Saving today is a patriotic service.

POLICE COURT

GIRL BITES OWN HAND AND CALLS IN POLICE

Three young soldiers who last week had been found guilty by Magistrate W. E. McIlveen of breaking and entering the Newmarket Arena and stealing a quantity of chocolate bars, in Newmarket police court, on Tuesday were placed on suspended sentence of six months in the custody of the military authorities.

They were Gunners Jack R. Garner, John Lowe and Herbert Gibson, all of the Newmarket military camp. The three young men had to pay costs amounting to $13.50 ($4.50 each). The defendants' superior officer told his worship that the accused men were good soldiers.

"The army definitely wants them," he stated.

Gunners John Lowe and Herbert Gibson who were found guilty last week of breaking and entering Adams' barbershop, Newmarket, were required to pay costs of $13.50 ($6.75 each) on the second charge.

Finding that there was insufficient evidence to convict Gunner E. L. Smith, Newmarket military camp, Magistrate McIlveen dismissed a charge of receiving stolen goods.

Sergeant Rose, also of the Newmarket training camp, testified that on March 30 he and Corporal Dixon had been sent to search one of the huts for the articles stolen by the previous defendants. He stated that he found a kit-bag containing the stolen goods behind Gunner Smith's bed. It was plainly visible, he stated.

The witness further stated that after giving the bag to the military police he went to Aurora, where Smith was visiting friends and brought him back to camp.

Questioned by defence counsel, Lieut. H. S. Clark, of the camp, as to the time of day he had found the bag, the witness replied that it was at 6.30 p.m.

According to Chief Constable James Sloss, in the course of investigating the break-ins of the arena and Adams' barber shop he had interviewed the defendant at the guard-room on the evening of March 30 and received a statement from him in which he said that he had been to the canteen and on his return he had met Gibson with the kit over his back. The latter asked him if he would take care of it and he said that he would, so put it behind his bed.

In the statement he further said that he took a package of cigarettes and a chocolate bar out of the bag and then went to Aurora. He said that he had an idea that the contents of the kit had been stolen.

"I might say that Smith was very fair about the thing," stated Chief Sloss. "He said that he wasn't sure the contents were stolen but that when he put his hand in the bag and found the chocolate bars and cigarettes he was pretty sure they were stolen."

In his defence Gunner Smith told his worship that he had received the kit bag at about 12.30 p.m. and that he didn't suspect that the goods were stolen until about 5.30 p.m., just before he left for Aurora.

"What made you think they had been stolen?" questioned Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C.

"The cigarettes, I know Gibson did not smoke," replied the defendant.

"I don't think there's enough evidence to make a conviction," stated Magistrate McIlveen. "I am going to give him the benefit of the doubt and dismiss the charge."

"Anyone who commits an assault is liable to three years in prison," Magistrate McIlveen warned Orval Vaughan, Holland Landing, pleading guilty to assaulting 79-year-old Robert Brockelbank, also of Holland Landing. "You deserve what is said against you. A boy, 19 years of age, teasing a man the age of Mr. Brockelbank."

According to Mr. Brockelbank, the defendant had been "poking fun at me for some time." He stated that on the evening of March 23, while playing pool in Jarvis' pool-room in Holland Landing, Orval Vaughan "was mimicking" and annoying him until he threatened to hit the defendant with a cue.

"I can't say whether I hit him or not," stated Mr. Brockelbank. "All I know is that I took the thick end of the cue to hit him and I fell backwards over the stove and onto the floor, with him on top of me."

Mr. Brockelbank went on to say that he had three ribs broken and had spent two weeks in York county hospital.

Dr. George Case, Newmarket, who attended the aged man, testified that he arrived at Mr. Jarvis' farm house at about 6.30 on the morning of March 24. He stated that as there was no one to give Mr. Brockelbank the proper attention at his home he had him taken to the hospital.

Questioned by the crown, N. L. Mathews, K.C., as to the extent of Mr. Brockelbank's injuries, the witness stated that the latter had received three broken ribs and had suffered considerable pain. For a time he had been threatened with pneumonia. The doctor estimated hospital bills and doctor's bills at about $50 or $60.

Mr. Jarvis, proprietor of the pool-room told his worship that the defendant and other boys had been "bothering the old man all the time." He said that the accused would sometimes shake a bottle of pop near Mr. Brockelbank's head, spilling the contents over him. He said that he had ordered the defendant to stay out of his place on several occasions.

In his defence Orval Vaughan denied that he had assaulted Mr. Brockelbank. He said that he tried to get the cue from the latter and fell over the stove with him. He admitted that he "tormented him a little bit."

"I think it is a contemptible sort of thing, tormenting an old man like that," commented Crown Attorney Mathews. "Mr. Brockelbank was very truthful. He said that he may have hit first. But I don't think the accused fell over the stove on top of him. Most likely he charged him."

"As far as the civil end of this is concerned, it can be collected in another court," stated his worship. "I am going to make the fine $5, because the costs are $20.50. In default of payment you go to jail for 30 days. If you come here again I'll make it both jail and fine."

Pleading guilty to a charge of vagrancy, Sylvester C. Tobin, Whitchurch, was fined $1 and costs of $2.50 or 15 days in the Don jail. Mr. Tobin chose to pay the fine.

County Constable Ronald Watt told his worship that on Sunday night, April 5, he received a call from Mr. Mitchell and arriving at the farm found the defendant asleep under some hay in Mr. Mitchell's barn. The officer said that Mrs. Mitchell had noticed the prowler about the farm and was nervous. Mr. Mitchell had not given the defendant permission to sleep in the barn.

Mr. Tobin, who is 27 years of age, admitted to his worship that he had been convicted of vagrancy on one other occasion and sentenced for a week.

"If you come back here again you'll get six months," stated Magistrate McIlveen.

Charged with driving without due care and attention on March 22 when the car he was driving collided with one owned by Pte. W. H. Reynolds of the Newmarket military camp, Frank Richardson, Toronto, was fined $10 including costs. The Reynolds car, which had been previously in another accident, was parked under a street light at the intersection of D'Arcy and Eagle Sts. in Newmarket.

"It was about 10.30 at night," testified Pte. Reynolds. "I was standing out beside the electric light post with another tank fellow. I saw another car coming from the south. We stepped back out of the road. He was going so fast I knew he couldn't stop."

"What happened?" asked the crown.

"He struck the rear of my car," replied the soldier. The witness also stated that the road was very slippery.

In his testimony Chief Sloss told his worship that he had been investigating the first accident and had gone to phone for a town truck when the second accident occurred. In reply to queries of the crown the officer stated that the parked Reynolds car could be seen for 300 feet or more. He said that there were skid marks of the Richardson car for about 40 feet. As to the kind of night, the officer stated that it was cool and clear but that the road was very slippery.

"What was the condition of the accused?" asked the crown.

"There was no evidence of liquor," replied Constable Sloss.

"I came up Eagle St. and proceeded north into town," explained the defendant when asked if he would like to tell his story. "I tried to turn the curve of the road but the wheels would not turn. The only thing I could do was to put on the brakes. The road was very bad."

In reply to the magistrate's question of how fast he had been driving, he stated that he was going between 15 and 18 miles an hour.

"I was coasting in, I had the clutch disengaged," Mr. Richardson stated.

"Isn't that the trouble, you had the clutch disengaged," commented the crown.

A 16-year-old North Gwillimbury girl was remanded for sentence until she is 18 years of age, upon payment of costs amounting to $12.75. She had pleaded guilty to a charge of giving false information.

"On March 16, from information received, I questioned the accused at her home," testified County Constable William Hill. "The accused girl was lying on a couch. She said that she had had a tussle with a man. She had tooth marks on her hand."

The officer stated that the girl told him that a middle-aged man wearing a dark brown overcoat, a grey fedora hat pulled over one eye and an orange scarf, had come into her house and rushed at her. She told the officer, he said, that she had thrown a chair at the intruder and that it had broken, a piece of it going through the window of the storm door. Her clothes were torn in the scuffle.

The officer stated that he and Constable Carl Morton had spent three days searching for the man. On the second day he had become suspicious of the girl's story. When he questioned her on that day she gave the same story. On the third day when he and Constable Morton questioned her she admitted the story was a false one. The witness stated that the girl admitted biting her own arm and breaking the window. She told him that she did not know why she did it but that she had been troubled with nerves and thought they had "got the best of her."

For driving at 70 miles an hour on Yonge St., Ernest Ralston, Camp Borden, was fined $15 and costs. James P. Taylor, Toronto, was fined $5 and costs for driving at 60 miles an hour on the same highway. His worship fined Harold Oldham, Toronto, $8 and costs for exceeding the speed limit in Newmarket.

For not having truck flares, Augustine Sutrara, Toronto, was fined $5 and [illegible]

He paid his premium... but HE BOUGHT A MACHINE GUN too!

THIS IS HOW: Total renewal premiums paid by Canada Life policyholders last year on all policies and annuities amounted to $23,229,466.00.

In Canada, the Canada Life purchased during 1941 over $12,000,000.00 of Canadian government war bonds.

In the British Isles, the Canada Life subscribed $5,200,000.00 to British war loans.

In the United States, the Canada Life purchased more than $7,000,000.00 of new United States government bonds.

In total, the Canada Life purchased during 1941—and still holds—$24,200,000.00 of government bonds, an amount which would pay for almost 75,000 Bren guns.

Thus, the company's investment in government war and defense bonds during the year was greater than its entire renewal premium income.

Take the FUL-O-PEP WAY To Succeed With Chicks!

It is far cheaper and more effective to avoid cannibalism than to stop it. When cannibalism starts the losses of good chicks mount fast—your profits fade. We all know that feather pulling and cannibalism in chicks is a nuisance, moreover it is apt to re-appear later as pick-outs in the laying flock with severe losses.

Experimental Stations have found that oats are far superior to any grain in preventing feather pulling.

There's your cue. Start your chicks on Ful-O-Pep Chick Starter this year for it contains lots of oatmeal. Rarely do Ful-O-Pep feeders have any trouble from cannibalism.

Aside from the anti-cannibalism factor, the oatmeal in Ful-O-Pep Mashes creates better digestive conditions, grows better chickens, avoids slipped tendons and develops better bones. Chicks fed the Ful-O-Pep Mashes the Ful-O-Pep Way grow more uniformly, feather evenly and develop into big, capable, profit-paying pullets.

In Memoriam

Hisey—In loving memory of my dear mother, Margaret Hisey, who passed away April 12, 1923.

I loved her, oh, no tongue can tell
How much I loved her and how well.
God loved her too, and thought it best
To take her home with Him to rest.
Her heart was the truest in all the wide world,
Her love the best to recall,
For no one on earth could take her place
She is still the dearest of all.

Daughter Grace.

EASTER SERVICES AT ST. PAUL'S APPRECIATED

There was a splendid attendance at all the services, including the children's service, at St. Paul's Anglican church on Easter Day.

The church was beautifully decorated with spring flowers, those on the altar being white stocks and Calla lilies.

The choir sang the anthem, "This is the day which the Lord hath made," during the offertory.

Today the W.A. are holding their annual spring tea and sale of home-baking while tomorrow they are having their monthly devotional and business meeting, including colored slides on the study book. They have asked the sister branches in nearby parishes to attend and enjoy the slides and accompanying lecture.

HEAR AURORA SPEAKERS ON "FRENCH CANADA"

Trinity W.A. met on Thursday, with the president, Mrs. Wesley Brooks, in the chair. The devotional service was led by Mrs. Frank Bothwell, who read from the 20th chapter of St. John. Prayer was offered by Mrs. E. Western.

Mrs. G. E. Case introduced the speakers, Mrs. G. W. Williams and Mrs. J. D. Wilcox of Aurora. Mrs. Wilcox said that the songs of the habitant lived in the heart and memory of the people, one Gaspe fisherman singing 310 songs. The rhythm and melody are important, she said. The speaker sang a number of songs unaccompanied.

Mrs. G. W. Williams told of the country people, art and literature. Both speakers were thoroughly conversant with their subject. Lovely French-Canadian handicraft was shown—a homespun blanket from Murray Bay, figures in carved wood, rugs, beautiful pictorial scenes made with hooked rags, etc.

Mrs. Sanford King thanked the speakers for the enjoyable afternoon. Miss Helen Epworth played a lovely piano solo.

Lunch was served, Mrs. L. P. Cane, Mrs. P. J. Tod and Mrs. Fred. Chantler pouring tea at a beautifully decorated tea table.

KING RED CROSS GETS READY FOR CAMPAIGN

Next month the Red Cross campaign for funds will be held. Plans are being made by the local branch for the canvass of the district. Word has not been received yet as to what the King township quota will be. In view of the coming campaign it is of interest to consider some of the demands made on the Red Cross. One work of the society which requires considerable funds is not usually realized by the general public, that is the tremendous cost to the Canadian Red Cross in supplying prisoner of war food parcels.

In January, 1941, at the request of the British Red Cross after the dreadful bomb raids, the shipment of 10,000 food parcels per week was inaugurated by the Canadian Red Cross. This number was increased during 1941, including shipments for the Australian and New Zealand Red Cross Societies. For some time now 40,000 food parcels have been shipped from Canada each week. Each parcel costs approximately $2.50. Due to the food shortage in Britain and difficulties in transportation, the Canadian Red Cross has again been asked to increase its shipments to 80,000 parcels per week, if facilities and financing can be arranged. This is one of the most urgent financial problems.

The Canadian Red Cross is a connecting link with prisoners of war. Through the Canadian Red Cross Society's inquiry bureau and its facilities for international investigation information can be obtained regarding missing men in the Canadian forces.

As a result of these obligations it is necessary for the Red Cross to ask for 50 percent more this year than was raised in 1940.

KING TOWNSHIP

King Protests Against Financial Aid Changes

A resolution, moved by Councillor E. M. Legge and seconded by Councillor W. E. Barker, opposing the bill of amendment which was before the Ontario legislative assembly regarding financial aid to the municipalities, was passed at the regular meeting of King township council on Saturday, when it met at the Temperance hall, Kettleby.

The motion was worded as follows:

"Whereas the department of municipal affairs has through its minister of the cabinet of this province instructed in the legislative assembly of this province a bill of amendment re financial aid and the general set-up of Aid to Municipalities Act,

"And whereas these amendments if enacted would be detrimental to the interests of municipalities and would remove most of the matters re finance from the actions and control of local councils.

"And whereas this council also considers this a move to centralize municipal administration and take from the local councils any control they may now have on these matters as outlined in the amendments.

"Therefore be it resolved that this council hereby voices its opposition to these amendments and asks that the enactment of these be withheld until circumstances warrant the same."

A by-law authorizing the purchase of land, part of lot 28, concession 4, for the purpose of housing a snow-plough and other materials was passed.

Councillors Legge and Barker introduced a motion, which was carried, amending the dog-licensing by-law by adding a penalty of $1 on all dogs which have no license on or before Sept. 30 of each year.

The clerk was instructed to write to H. H. Sawdon and ask him for immediate payment of an outstanding account.

An account was ordered paid to L. S. Yolles amounting to $65, for sheep killed by dogs. Charles Routledge was paid $2 for valuator's services.

The account for February hospitalization, amounting to $72.62, was ordered paid.

The clerk was asked to write to the mayor and corporation of Aurora asking for a date to meet their council regarding fire arrangements between the municipalities, "as this council deems it advisable that the full council of the township of King be present during any deliberation on the matter."

A cheque was ordered paid to Mrs. M. Packer, Toronto, for $1.17, which was an overpayment received on the 1940 and 1941 tax arrears on the properties described as lots 1-2, plan 153, and lot 11, plan 151.

Other accounts passed included the following: H. C. Rose, registrations, $3; Canadian Bank of Commerce, 3,000 cheques, $26.50; Woodbridge and Vaughan Telephone, clerk's phone, $7.51; Temperance hall, Kettleby, rent for meeting, $5; postmaster, Nobleton, postage, $9; J. A. Farquhar, constable account, $21.45; Police Village, Schomberg, Geo. West's fire, $20; E. A. Stuckey, acid for fire truck, P.V.S., $2.35; E. Aitcheson, labor, P.V.S., $1.30; Thos. Cronin, labor, P.V.S., $1.10; W. A. Cutting, constable account, $24.30; Arthur Wellesley, school attendance work, $17.05; relief voucher, $51.75; road voucher, $328.62.

The council adjourned, to meet again at Sutton's hotel, Schomberg, on Saturday, May 2, at 9 a.m., or at the call of the chair.

Aurora Pilot Presumed Killed, R.A.F. Cable Says

Aurora was saddened when Mrs. John E. Bradbury received a cable last Thursday from Royal Air Force headquarters that her husband, Pilot-Officer Jack Bradbury, was missing from operations over enemy territory and was presumed killed. The family are anxiously awaiting further details.

Nisbet, Bill Thompson, Red Atkinson; front row, Principal J. H. Knowles, Craig McKenzie, Ted Kerr, Capt. Pete Hughey, Bill Babcock, Alan Crossley and Coach N. F. Johnson.

Solution Of Rural Fire Protection Problem Seen

Following a conference last week Aurora town council has submitted a memorandum on a proposed fire agreement to King township and is forwarding a similar memo to Whitchurch township.

"We had a splendid meeting and are optimistic about a suitable agreement," Mayor Underhill told The Era.

With Mayor Frank Underhill representing Aurora, Councillor W. E. Barker appearing on behalf of King township, and Deputy-reeve George Leary, Councillor L. P. Evans and Clerk John Crawford representing Whitchurch, and Ben Langley of Wilcox Lake there on behalf of Whitchurch township residents, the problem confronting Aurora regarding serving the present fire areas was outlined by the Aurora representatives on Thursday night. Fire Chief Harry Jones and Captain Stewart Patrick were present to explain the brigade's position.

"We control what we give our firemen, and what equipment is bought but the brigade have complete control of fires and the use of the equipment and we are well satisfied with results," said Mayor Frank Underhill. "Our present equipment is used as much in the townships as in Aurora but it is our investment and our upkeep that carries it."

"We are anxious to give the townships the best possible service but we must consider our own ratepayers," said Reeve Malloy. "I know that the ratepayers in King and, Whitchurch appreciate the work of our brigade. There is none better."

"We really need a new fire truck if we are to protect the farmers properly," said Fire Chief Jones. "We have the newest equipment possible to fight fires, but the present truck is about done."

The meeting requested Aurora to obtain figures on a new truck which would be purchased by the town, with the townships contributing a portion by way of annual grants. If it should be decided to purchase a new truck there would be a guarantee by the townships that new fire agreements would be maintained for a definite number of years. The townships would also share in the annual charges necessary to allow for depreciation of equipment and on either a new or the old truck and purchase of new equipment. Each township would be granted a representative on the fire comittee.

"It would be better to have a flat rate payable by each township each year," said Mr. Langley. "We can appreciate the fee system is not very satisfactory."

"The annual contribution would be the only one expected," said Mayor Underhill. "We would answer as many calls as were necessary in a year. If you had a bad year for fires the township would save money."

"Councils in Aurora are not in the habit of buying equipment that is not needed or buying unnecessary articles," said Reeve Malloy. "We can testify to that," said Captain Patrick.

"I believe we are agreed the townships should make a contribution each year at a fixed rate and in turn have a representative on the fire committee and be relieved of any other charges," said Councillor L. P. Evans. "With three councils involved it will take time to work it out. Let's not hurry this."

"If Aurora will prepare figures I know our council will give it every consideration," said Councillor W. E. Barker.

It is estimated that each municipality will contribute around $400 a year.

Tax Rate Is Same Seventh Year, Housing Discussed

Aurora's mill rate for 1942 was set at 40 mills by Aurora town council on Monday evening. It has stood at this figure for the past seven years.

With a total assessment of $1,623,880, a revenue to the town of $64,955.20 will be raised but, as stated by the finance chairman, Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks, the largest part of this amount is uncontrollable or practically so, with the public school levy, the high school levy, county levy, debentures and salaries absorbing the greater portion. The report of the committee urged that the most rigid economy be used by all departments.

Figures from the auditor's report showed that receipts for 1941 were down $3,614.43 from the year previous while expenditures were slightly higher, leaving a deficit for the year.

"We did not get a grant of $3,000 from the waterworks department for the general fund," said Mayor Underhill. "That with fewer fines makes up the difference. The taxpayers should know this. We created a reserve in the waterworks department account."

"Rentals and the arena revenue were down too," said Councillor G. A. C. Gunton.

"The 40-mill rate will wipe out the deficit this year," said Mr. Sparks.

By departments the estimates for 1942 were as follows: police, $2,300; fire, $900; industrial, $300; streets, $3,000; materials, $1,000; indigent patients, $300; relief, $500; public library, $1,050; street lighting, $2,400; garbage collection, $1,500; public school, $7,000; high school, $14,500.

Grants made by the council were: Aurora Horticultural Society, $25; Aurora Agricultural Society, $100; Aurora junior hockey club, $50; and library board, $1,050. To avoid any legal entanglements the council's usual grant to Aurora boys' band of $100 was made as payment for the band's appearances at concerts and ceremonies.

Councillor Gunton, chairman of the industrial committee, urged that $600 be voted for industrial purposes. "We may have to have own planning this year if industrial expansion continues. We won't spend a cent we don't have to but we should have it available."

"With the new laws I believe labor conditions will be stationary," said Councillor Ross Linton.

"The Aurora Engineering Co. are adding more employees all the time," said Councillor Gunton. "They can't find homes here. The ordnance corps will be bringing extra help to town too at the Fleury and Grover plants."

Military authorities aren't worrying about housing conditions here," said Mayor Underhill. "I believe the majority of the help will be girls. If they can't accommodate them here, they'll bring them to work by bus from what I understand."

Despite Councillor Gunton's arguments the council let the original estimates stand. "We will have to pass on any expenditures here. If you need more and the council approves you'll get it," said Councillor Linton.

When the report of the streets committee was received the question of a new town truck arose. "The old truck needs repairs badly," said Reeve Malloy. "It is a question of fixing it or getting another."

"We really need a new one if we can get a good buy," said Mayor Underhill. "The repairs will be wasted in the end."

"If we purchased one we would share the cost three ways, with the water and light departments each contributing a third," said the reeve. "I don't like to spend the money but it might be cheaper finally."

The council appointed a committee of Councillors Linton and Cook, the reeve and the mayor to consider the question. The question will be decided on April 20 at the next meeting.

The council will also consider its policy in the collection of tax arrears at the next meeting. A tax sale is likely to be held this year.

MEETS AURORA BOYS, HEARS HOME NEWS

Pte. Percy Lloyd, Aurora boy in England with the army service corps since 1940, had a pleasant surprise a few weeks ago when he encountered three Aurora boys. They were Tprs. Gordon Long, Bill Simmons and Bill Mugford. Percy did not know the boys were in England and enjoyed first hand news of '41 from home. The only other district boy he has encountered in almost two years in England is Vern Clarke of Newmarket.

DOWN THE CENTRE

King City hockeyists last week brought home 1942's first hockey title to North York with the crushing defeat of Plattsville. The champs gave full measure for their win and were never in trouble.

Humber Summit, the other county farm team in the running for honors, bowed out in a sudden-death game before the onslaught of the Kintore team. It was a thriller and the winners were lucky to have a 2-1 win. King duplicated the success of last year's Bradford team to prove once and for all that there is a lot of pretty fair intermediate talent in these parts that would go to seed entirely but for the rural series.

Bob Moody, coach of the victors, Cec. Walker and all the lads were in fine fettle following the game and it was our privilege to take in the game with the team. The dressing-room spirit was all that could be desired, and jealousy and selfishness were items the farm boys weren't familiar with. They played "one for all and all for one" and it got results. The gate amounted to over $50 and from this amount the rink took $24.00, the referee got $8.50, so finally the boys had a bit in the jackpot to buy fish and chips and stuff.

There is quite a bit of experience among the players. Ross Folliott, Duke Dennis and Shorty Graham all are ex-Aurora juniors. Blondie Rawlings and Charlie and Norm. Taylor have had trials with the local juniors but failed to stick. Ritchie Sayers, the smooth-skating centre, is a former Richmond Hill junior, while Nip. Armstrong, Leon. Shropshire, Doug. Palmer, Ray "Bucko" Lloyd have had two or three years seasoning in the rural racket.

Charlie Case played a steady game in goal and was one of the big reasons for the King win. Case plugged a gap in which Moody's boys were weak in other years. Sayers, Dennis and Palmer were additions to the team who really made things hum. Despite what may be said, the team is still quite a bit below intermediate O.H.A. calibre but with coaching and one or two players would give a good account of itself.

Nip. Armstrong is the first break in the championship line-up. This week he left his bank job at Maple to join the R.C.O.C. He was a pretty fair basketball and softball player too. Howard Folliott was lost to the R.C.A.F. early in the year, and more of the boys will likely follow, although they're nearly all real dirt farmers and not freely subject to military call.

Blondie Rawlings was the problem child of the team. In the final game he scored two quickies and then to quote Annis Stukus of the Star, who sat next to me in the pressbox, "went figure-skating the rest of the night." Rawlings has everything to make him a top-flight player but can't get the old college try spirit. We give a salvo to the boys for a consistently fine performance and a real contribution to the winter and spring sport scene.

Milton won the senior series of the O.R.H.A., and, not satisfied with one trophy to set up in Armstrong's hotel, the King boys are convinced they can take Milton and so have sent a challenge. The games may or may not be played this week. So far as we can see, there's no mazuma and little honor in such a series but if the King boys go on we'll still be pitching for them. They'll find Milton a bit better than the other teams they've met so far. Coxe, Robertson, Binsell, Learmont and others who were on that junior C team which lost in the finals to Aurora in '39 are on the Milton line-up. They defeated Watford handily in the finals.

Two championships were thus won by the Halton county capital, the juniors, as we predicted, galloping home free past Preston without much trouble. As we've said before, Aurora is the only team to have a decisive season's margin over the Miltonites, which is poor consolation. No one can begrudge Cap. Hayward and his boys their win. They've been trying for years now. Hockey is one sport where that old chestnut, "Every dog has its day," is pretty well borne out.

Markham Intermediates after a stirring season went down with colors flying before Owen Sound in a three-game series. Forced to play out the season on artificial ice, the Markham boys chose to play all their games in the Sound and while it was a good move financially, their chances were pretty well shot with that decision. The Owen Sound boys were accustomed to their own rink but the big item was the fact that in a week the green and white made three trips north for a total of over 750 miles of travelling. You can't hit the hay at about 3 a.m. three nights out of six, go to work, and then take a long car ride, arriving there just in time for the game and still win out. Markham tied the first game but lost the last two and the boys were about dead on their feet according to our scouts. A big consolation, however, was the fact that over 7,000 fans paid to see the series, and when Markham gets its cut it "ain't hay" by any means. Nick Bangay and Ronnie Rowe both were standout performers in the older series and more than justified their all-star rating of last week. In the final game Markham bowed out in overtime by a 3-2 score. Markham won 11 straight games and oddly enough, after that loss to Paris, never hit a winning streak again. The closest they came was a tie. So over the season they had a record of 11 wins, three losses and a tie. They scored a total of 107 goals and Jack Harper let in only 52 goals. Bob Lawrie was top marksman of the team, the same as he was in junior ranks last year.

Owen Sound got their first title of any description in 15 years. The last time the Sounders took honors was in 1927 when the junior Greys triumphed over a potent team of Newmarket homebrews led by Bill Thoms by a 7-3 margin on the round. The present team is mostly a local team and Harry Lumley, the goalie, is only 15. He was spurned by the junior team. Warpy Tennant, their scoring ace, played for Galt juniors against Aurora two years ago in the S.P.A. A keg-shaped winger with a school-girl complexion, he gave Markham the most trouble.

Scotland is going for Canada's winter sport in a big way, from a report we get from overseas. Blackouts or no blackouts the heiland lads and lassies get their sport. As you can imagine, bargain prices prevail. For two shillings (which is 45 cents to you blokes) Annie and Sandy get an hour and a half of skating and then see a regulation game. The charge is slightly lower if you get there only in time to see the puck-chasers in action. "Outside the rink all is dark and quiet, but inside there's plenty of excitement and noise, and the fans are very partisan to one team or the other. Reminds me of games at Aurora or Newmarket," writes one of our pen pals from overseas.

Jimmy Lowe got into action for Victoria in the Pacific coast playoffs, we learn from Ace Yake, who is in hospital in Vancouver. Jimmy, however, didn't show the form that he did here or in Brantford. Kimberley, the B.C. senior winners, are not too bad but in most cases the teams aren't better than intermediate class. Yake incidentally is having trouble with the old proboscis and is undergoing an operation, which will likely keep him out of softball this year, but certainly not out of countless arguments.

St. Catharines lacrosse team and Owen Sound have set the example for all centres contemplating inter-town sports of any kind this season by announcing contracts secured with local taxi companies. It'll probably be just as cheap in the long run too.

Leon. Simmons, we learn by the grapevine, is contemplating another softball team here this season and we hope it's more than a rumor. Leon. can generally be depended upon to get a little anxious about sports when the fine weather appears and the Simmons acumen will doubtless be able to solve the problem. With the help of the odd reinforcement from Newmarket, a fair sort of club could be organized and we understand that one or two new players are in town on war work.

Charlie Smith is back in Ontario after spending the winter down south. C. W. didn't ride much this winter due to the fact that with a lot of American tracks closed the jockeys flocked to Florida and New Orleans and big names were riding truck horses for peanuts almost. Charlie and his bride had a fine time and with his well-known yen for picking winners the old bank-roll fared pretty well too. Right now, of course, his big task is to get Ten to Ace ready for the King's Plate, and the Giddings Colt is installed as heavy favorite in the books, last odds being 4-1. Giddings has first call on Smith's services and after that Pickering Farm stables have the next call. Between the two stables he's hopping from Long Branch and Thorncliffe daily. The Aurora boy is dead set on riding home the winner in Canada's racing classic this year, and with the exception of Cossack Colt, the McLaughlin entry, Charlie should have a clear field. Ten to Ace is generally regarded as a better bet than was Undisturbed last year. Charlie Hemstead, one of the backers of Markham juniors, has three entries in the race who are in the sleeper class.

Earl Cook, North York's gift to professional baseball, is apparently on his way down in his chosen profession. Earl last year had a poor year with Buffalo but was recalled by a desperate Detroit management this spring. He never got going at Lakeland in spring training and has been sold outright by his Bengal bosses to Beaumont, a class B team in the Texas league. Beaumont is a farm team of Detroit but in a lower strata than Buffalo, who rate class AA. The warm climate and a little softer batting opposition may do wonders for Cook and the take isn't much less either. We'll be pulling for Earl as he toils "deep in the heart of Texas" to make a comeback.

Lou Walker, who hails from Bradford and used to play both hardball and lacrosse for that town, has been named second vice-president of the T.A.B.A., the governing hardball executive in Toronto. Lou has been connected with baseball year in and out in the city over a 15-year stretch. Like Doug. Smith, the Aurora boy who heads the T.A.S.A. for a second term, and is head man of Toronto softball, these country boys don't do bad for themselves when they get interested in something in the big city.

Aurora high basketeers received their trophies on Thursday and with three out of four titles the old school has done itself proud again. The league proper has had cups up for competition in the boys' section since 1934 and the present win in the senior series ties Aurora and Newmarket at three wins apiece, while the Hill has two. In the junior series the local youngsters have completely dominated the play, and Norm. Johnson, the coach, can take a bow for an almost unbelievable record of seven championships out of eight trys. The only thing hard to figure out is what happens to some of these starry juniors when they move up to senior company.

Danforth Aces is the team name adopted by Don Hamilton, Ross Tunbridge, Del. Beaumont and other Aurora juniors who entirely on their own are now in quest of the T.H.L. King Clancy junior title. The lads won their first start and should be capable of going a long way towards the finals. They are paying their own expenses and have the loan of Aurora equipment.

Alex. Campbell, the red-headed King boy who was on the title-winning A.H.S. basketball team of last season, has joined the R.C.A.F. That makes four of last year's athletes in the air force, with Folliott, Bill Walker and Bob Burton all in service. Burton arrived overseas recently with Canadian troops.

Newmarket Camp relay team won at Hamilton recently in the big inter-military district track meet. A few of the boys were on the M.D. 2 team but didn't fare well in the individual events.

Barrie Colts are proud of the fact that 33 former members of the club are now on active service, and hockey fans everywhere are proud of that fact too. A recently published list shows "Gene" Doyle of Newmarket and David "Whitey" Walker of Aurora among the boys serving their country. The boys were not imports to the Colts but were living there at the time they played for Barrie. The list goes back to 1926-27 but the majority of the list are from teams of later vintage.

Aurora has sent at least 30 former O.H.A. players, mostly all who played junior here, to the armed forces, and we have probably missed a few. If we have made omissions a little reminder would be really appreciated. Without any particular order here are the former Aurora hockeyists seeing service: Norman Mabley, Irwin Brown, Frank Michaniuk, Jimmy Lowe, Joe McGhee, Joe Tunney, Gordy Fanning, Harry Pearce, Dave Murray, Grant Cook, Ken. Brown, Bill Hoskinson, Clayt. Doolittle, Bill Thornton, "Fat" James, "Mutt" Collings, Frankie Carr, Howard Anderson, Dooley Butler, Alf. Cooper, Ben. Cox, Wilkie Fleury, "Shorty" Turan, "Buck" Hayes, Frank Clubine, Keith Knowles, Keith Davis, Bill Robb, Bob Hacking and Jack Cowieson. That's a mighty good showing. We have only included boys whom we recall as actually being on teams.

Bill Thoms wound up the N.H.L. back on defence for Blackhawks, as Earl Seibert was injured. Bill gathered one assist in the series against Boston and generally disported himself well. He has been getting quite a few votes for the Canadian Press second team all-star selections.

Herbie Cain got a goal for the Bruins in two series and like his mates was good but not quite good enough to oust the Detroit Redwings, who are flying right now with as much pep as the well-known Eagles from Mobile.

The oldest player from point of service in the O.H.A. this season was Farmer McFaden of Seaforth Beavers, who bowed out to Owen Sound and were the champs last year. McFaden has played 23 seasons in the O.H.A. and also played pro with New Haven and Springfield, being reinstated a few years back. Despite his age he was about the best player Seaforth had and it wasn't his fault the Beavers were beaten. Along with his brother, Albie, he is one of the most colorful stars in the hockey firmament.

Bill Hancock is up and around again and out on some scouting trips for Oshawa Generals. If the Generals win this year they can thank Bill for a lot of their success. It was Hancock who recommended Ross Waddell to Oshawa. Bill Armstrong, this year with Penetang and last year with Aurora, is already slated for delivery to the motor city next season, as he wound up the season in a burst of glory with Penetang juveniles, who lost out to Orangeville in the provincial finals. Porter, a 15-year-old sensation from Paris, is already booked for Oshawa next season as a result of Hancock's eagle eye.

Table Tennis has taken a real hold among the high school youngsters and two youthfuls, Bill Devins and Maxine McKenzie, won the honors this year from bigger and older opponents. Young Devins, if he keeps at it, will be heard from in ping-pong circles in a few years. The game requires a lot more skill than most people imagine. Illtyd Harris has been in charge of the tournaments the past few years.

Mickey Smith, if Sutton downs Fingal fliers this Monday, will have the distinction of playing on two titleholders inside a year. Last season he was with Bradford, the rural titleholders. Eddie Mosley, the kid bike rider who made a fine start last season, just about made the grade for the army until the authorities found his real age and sent him back home to cool off his heels for some months to come. He expects to get some needed training in the reserve unit of the Yorks until his time comes. Bill Seaton, Aurora lad, is in the same boat, too.

Bill Griffith, one of the top-ranking basketeers of the district, is not enjoying Easter holidays. Bill took the occasion to have some tonsils yanked and is parked up at York county hospital.

Pete Donkin wound up the season as top scorer in the T.H.L. senior commercial series even if DeHayiland did finally lose out. Donkin had a total of 24 points and didn't play all the games. Jimmy Cummings, a teammate, had 19 points, while two former Newmarket Redmen did well too. Jackie Dickson had 15 points and "Busher" Gibbon 13. Bob Bangay had 17 points. Pete Kaus, who never got a chance with Newmarket, was picked as the best goalie in the loop, even better than Jocko Collins, who guarded the twine for Markham juniors this season.

Charlie Rowntree will give you a broad grin these days if you say "Hello Farmer." Rowntree, after 13 years of service in the district with an oil company, has decided to go back to the cows and chickens and, in case you don't know, for the past two years he has been quietly assembling a fine collection of both birds and beasts. According to the fat boy, he won't have any time left for hockey but at least he'll be back with his first love, Humber Summit, for they're his neighbors once again. There's no use repeating Charlie's record as a junior coach. That's a matter of common knowledge, but it is one he can be proud of in his old age, which is still quite a few years away. His big forte was his ability to get harmony in the dressing-room and his teams, although they never were very good at kitty-bar-the-door style of play, were always crowd pleasers. Beryl Rowntree, a promising basketball player with Newmarket, and "Son," an up-and-coming junior hockey player, will, like Pop and Mom, be missed by all the gang. Betcha Charlie will be back in hockey some place next year. So far as Aurora is concerned, welcome will be on the doormat. Long winter nights around a farm stove will find Charlie replaying many a contest and, if we know him, thinking about things won't be enough. The season of '39 when Aurora juniors went through to a title is still his big thrill, but win or lose we have yet to see him lose his temper with the boys and there've been many occasions when he could and perhaps should have. Good-luck, Charlie!

WAR CALLS

TO TELEPHONE EXPANSION...

TELEPHONES are in greater demand than ever before—even greater than in 1941, an all-time record year. By far the greater part of this demand is for residence telephones.

Only a part of this unprecedented volume of orders can be filled if we are to have anything left for the camps and depots and air schools of our armed forces—for the plants and offices of our war industries. Already telephone materials are difficult to obtain. Reserves are steadily diminishing, even though we are re-conditioning and re-using every last piece of equipment that can be salvaged.

There can be only one answer: war needs must get first call on available supplies. Even when necessity demands new installations, not all types of instruments and services will be available.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board established by the Governor-in-Council under the War Measures Act, has directed us "to do all such things as may be requisite to conserve any and all telephone plant and facilities."

We realize that this will cause inconvenience—perhaps even hardship. We shall need your help in working out wise and just solutions to the telephone problems of your community. And we know that you will give it cheerfully, as still another necessary contribution to victory.

Look Out! A Sick Liver is Dangerous

Do you have persistent headaches and backaches? Are you tortured by rheumatic pains in muscles and joints? A faulty liver is clogging your whole system. Serious ill health may result.

● Your liver is the largest organ in your body and most important to your health. It supplies energy to muscles, tissues and glands. If unhealthy, your body lacks this energy and becomes enfeebled—youthful vim disappears. Again your liver pours out bile to digest food, get rid of waste and allow proper nourishment to reach your blood. When your liver gets out of order proper digestion and nourishment stop—you're poisoned with the waste that decomposes in your intestines. Nervous troubles and rheumatic pains arise from this poison. You become constipated, stomach and kidneys can't work properly. The whole system is affected and you feel "rotten," headachy, backachy, dizzy, tired out—a ready prey for sickness and disease.

Thousands of people are never sick, and have won prompt relief from these miseries with "Improved Fruit-a-tives Liver Tablets." The liver is toned up, the other organs function normally and lasting good health results. Today "Improved Fruit-a-tives" are Canada's largest selling liver tablets. They must be good! Try them yourself NOW. Let "Fruit-a-tives" put you back on the road to lasting health—feel like a new person. 25c, 50c.

"Always In Pain, Now Grand Relief"

I suffered so badly from rheumatism and neuritis I could hardly walk upstairs or close my hands. After taking Fruit-a-tives for four days the swelling left my hands and I was able to climb a ladder. I have no more bother with rheumatism or neuritis and advise any person suffering as I have to use Fruit-a-tives. They give quick relief. William J. Tracey, Toronto, Ont.

"Sick For Years, In Hospital—Now Fine"

I had a bad case of biliousness and constant headaches and backaches. I became so ill I had to go to a hospital. Nothing I tried would help until I started taking Fruit-a-tives. In a very short time my troubles disappeared. Now I have no more headaches or backaches and can do my housework without help. Mrs. E. Dodson, London, Ont.

IN THE HARVEST FIELD...

AND ON THE BATTLEFIELD

MODERN EQUIPMENT WINS THE DAY

THAT the prodigious task of providing the foodstuffs for an Empire at war can be undertaken by Canadian agriculture with less man-power than ever before is due to the high degree of mechanization of the farm which had been reached before the outbreak of war.

Massey-Harris leadership in the developing and building of such labor-saving equipment for the farm is recognized throughout the world, and has resulted in an enviable reputation for this great Canadian Company wherever grain is grown.

It is but natural, therefore, that a Company with such great resources in plant, skill and experience should be chosen for the production of various munitions of war. Several types of shell, aircraft wings and parts, and equipment for military transports are being turned out with the skill and efficiency which have made the name Massey-Harris famed throughout the years for products of highest quality.

Massey-Harris is proud of its part in providing the implements so essential in modern farming under war conditions and in furnishing munitions and equipment so vital to the success of our fighting forces.

ROCHE'S POINT

Lieut. G. M. Baker Dies In Commandos' Service

The congregations of Keswick United church and Christ Anglican church held united services on Holy Thursday and Good Friday evenings of last week. Both services were well attended.

Rev. A. J. Forte spoke on Thursday evening, his theme being "The Cross," based on John 12: 32, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me." Rev. Gordon Lapp gave a timely message on Good Friday evening. Brief character sketches were given of the principals in the crucifixion drama.

At Christ church, Holland Landing, and at St. James', Sharon, on Easter Day, services were unusually well attended. There was a record number of communicants at all three points. There was a buoyant note of hope for a weary world at war in the joyous Easter hymns and in the beauty of the plants and spring-time flowers in the chancels. The incumbent spoke on the meaning of St. Paul's words, "That I may know Him and the power of His resurrection and the fellowship of His sufferings."

"The Easter message this year should be one of Christian hope, comfort and encouragement, because of Christians' confidence in the power of God, as evidence in the resurrection of His Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord and Saviour," Mr. Forte said.

Christ church, Roche's Point, was crowded with visitors at the 11 a.m. service. Rev. A. J. Forte, in a brief introduction to his sermon, spoke of the untimely death of Lieut. Graham M. Baker, R.C.N.V.R., who gloriously gave his life somewhere in the hell-fire of St. Nazaire early Saturday, March 28. The 26-year-old Toronto naval officer was in command of a motor torpedo boat, and he died while leading his men in the brilliantly successful assault on the Nazi submarine and naval base on the west coast of France.

Lieut. Baker was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Baker, 135 Dunvegan Road, Toronto. He is believed to be the first Canadian to give his life in the daring service of the commandos. Since childhood Lieut. Baker has spent his summers at Roche's Point, where his parents have their summer home. He was widely known in the community, was typical of the fine young Canadian manhood which has entered the lists against the Nazi hordes. He was fond of all outdoor sports, particularly sailing and hockey. He is the first casualty on the roll of honor of members of Christ church and community who are now serving in the forces of the king.

MOVIES ON PARADE

"49th Parallel", coming to the Strand next Monday, was almost entirely made in the dominion, only the interior scenes being photographed in London. It becomes the first major feature with a completely Canadian story, with large numbers of Canadians taking part, and technically accurate in every possible detail regarding Canadian life and customs.

"49th Parallel" features such outstanding British and Canadian stars as Raymond Massey, Leslie Howard, Lawrence Olivier, Eric Portman, Anton Walbrook, and not least, Glynis Johns, attractive little 17-year-old London actress, who scores a magnificient hit as Anna, the Hutterite girl. The film tells in graphic and thrilling detail the realistic and up-to-the-minute story of what happened to six Nazis who, stranded on the barren shores of Hudson Strait when their submarine is destroyed by R.C.A.F. bombers, attempt to escape over the 49th parallel of latitude into the then neutral United States. The almost constant action of the film takes one in a wide sweep of the dominion, from Cape Wolstenhome in the Canadian sub-Arctic to the U.S.-Canadian border at Niagara Falls; from Vancouver on the Pacific coast, Banff in the Rockies, to the prairies of the midwest, and Toronto in southern Ontario. The result is one of the most thrilling, breath-taking and Canadian atmospherically true pictures ever to be seen on a motion picture screen.

"49th Parallel" is all the more fascinating when one realizes that it was made in wartime by a special film expedition who crossed the Atlantic at risk to their lives, and returned from the comparative safety of Canada to blitzed London to make the interiors. It is a tribute to British courage and resource that the film was made at all.

To keep the dancing "in the groove" a talented group of Hollywood's young tap steppers, the 18 Jivin' Jacks and Jills, perform a number of sparkling rhythm routines for "What's Cookin'," new comedy musical coming to the Strand next Wednesday. The Andrews Sisters, Jane Frazee, Robert Paige, Gloria Jean, Leo Carrillo, Billie Burke, Charles Butterworth and Woody Herman and his orchestra head the cast.

The film features several new song hits, including the popular "What To Do" and "I'll Pray For You," as well as a "bounce" version of the old favorite, "Pack Up Your Troubles."

On the same bill Red Skelton, new comedy star, romps through one of the funniest comedies of the season, accompanied by Ann Rutherford and Virginia Grey, in "Whistling In the Dark."

RAVENSHOE

RAVENSHOE BOY IS KILLED IN ACCIDENT

The community was saddened by the sudden death of Miss Lucy Bache, a Ravenshoe resident for many years. Recently she moved to Sharon. Deepest sympathy goes to the family.

The community was shocked at the tragedy on Sunday morning when Eric Pickrell was killed in an automobile accident near Queensville. A Ravenshoe boy, he had been working in Toronto. He attended Ravenshoe school and the United church. Deepest sympathy is felt for the family.

The accident occurred when Eric, 20, and his brother, Harvey, 17, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pickrell, about 1 a.m. on Sunday morning were driving north, about a mile and a quarter north of Queensville. They were apparently going up a hill when their car was overtaken by another car, driven by Murray Johnston, 18, of Queensville. The second car attempted to pass the first, police said, but went out of control in a rut on the shoulder of the road, swerved in front of the Pickrell car and rolled over in the ditch. The driver escaped with scratches.

Eric Pickrell, who was driving the first car, tried to avoid collision, it was believed, and swerved into the two-foot ditch. The car rolled over two or three times and climbed a seven-foot bank, stopping on the flat ground above. Both cars were practically demolished.

Eric Pickrell and his brother were taken to York County hospital, where Eric died four hours later, Harvey, the younger brother, suffered a fractured shoulder.

Constable Joseph Jardine of Queensville, assisted by County Constable Wm. Hill of Sutton, investigated. Coroner Dr. J. H. Wesley of Newmarket was called.

The union choirs of Keswick and Ravenshoe United churches rendered two anthems splendidly at the Easter Sunday services at Keswick in the morning and Ravenshoe in the afternoon.

Rev. Gordon Lapp's subject was "Partakers of His Resurrection." There was a good attendance.

Easter Sunday was bright but cool for the Easter fashion parade.

Many spring lambs are hopping around enjoying the warm sunshine.

Fishing is great sport just now. Suckers are coming down the creeks. The ice is breaking up in the lake and open water looks good again. The roads are quite good. A few spots are breaking up but the road graders are busy filling in the rough places.

Yes, YOU BOYS AND GIRLS can help win the War!

What if you can't fly a bomber, or drive a tank, or help make guns and ammunition? You can do your part in winning the war.

When you boys go out and cut lawns or collect paper and scrap, you are doing a man's work. That releases one more man for the armed forces or to work in a munitions plant. When you go to the store and carry parcels home you relieve a man; you also relieve a truck and make more tires and gasoline available for carrying on the war.

When you girls wash the dishes and help with the housework, your mother doesn't need to get help. That means more hands to work in munitions plants. When you bring dad's slippers, do little chores for him when he is tired, he will be able to do better work and more work next day—perform a bigger part in winning the war.

So, boys and girls, do all the odd jobs you can find to do. Make yourselves useful around your home and in your community. Every single job you do willingly brings victory one step nearer.

This message is issued by the Department of Munitions and Supply for Canada
